A systematic approach

Description

Injection technology requires a system approach, from pump to hoses to lances and packers for cements and resins matching the required project needs. Project considerations include medium being injected, the rock or structure to be injected and the potential of high-water pressures being present.

Typical applications include:

- Sealing and consolidation
- Bolting and Anchoring

Nordic Geo Support offers systems to meet the requirements of a project and this includes:

- Pumps
- Hoses
- Lances
